AUTOS CLIMB IN MIST.

MT. WASHINGTON HIDDEN.

Only Four Classes Out of Fifteen Make Perilous Ascent.

[BY THLEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] Bretton Woods, N. H., July 17 .- Four out of the fifteen classes in the climb to the clouds competed to-day, making the eight-mile climb up Mount Washington under adverse conditions. No records were broken, and the runhing was at no time free from extreme hazard.

The morning opened up rainy and heavily clouded, and only one class was allowed by the officials to be run off. Shortly after noon, however, the clouds lifted at the base of the mountain, and the first four miles of the carriage road were in sunshine for the rest of the day.

The upper half of the course, however, re mained obscured by baffling clouds and impenetrable mist, which made motor navigation at high speed extremely dangerous, if not impossible. The observation was at no time more than twenty or twenty-five feet.

The fastest time of the day was made by Charley Soules in a 30-horsepower Pope Toledo. He negotiated the ascent in 29 minutes and 37 2-5 seconds, which is five minutes slower than the record, made by Harry Harkness last year. It is better, however, than any time made in the corresponding class last year. This class was for cars from $3,000 to $4,500.

In the Class 1 contest, for runabouts, $650 or under, three Olds machines were the only entries. F. R. Parker went up in 56 minutes and Jerome at Hearing in Grout's Suit for Alleged Libel.

In the examination yesterday of Controller Edward M. Grout in the proceedings brought by him against Arthur Brisbane for alleged eriminal libel, District Attorney Jerome declared that if the defendant should be found guilty he would ask for a prison sentence, in stead of a fine. He declared that the statements published by the defendant were "wilfully, deliberately and maliciously false in every particular.". He said he wished to give him the widest possible latitude in his attempts to prove the statements published.

The examination was held before Justice Wyatt, of the Court of Special Sessions, sitting as a magistrate in the District Attorney's office. District Attorney Jerome conducted the examination, while Clarence J. Shearn appeared for Mr. Brisbane

Mr. Shearn began by asking Mr. Grout about the Livingston-st., Brooklyn, widening, and endeavored to show that the Second Construction Company, in which Mr. Grout at one time held stock, had benefited by the city's improvement. Mr. Grout denied that he knew anything about the Livingston Realty Company, the Realty Associates or the City Real Estate Company. He admitted that he had held stock in the Second Construction Company, but said he parted with

Justice Wyatt halted counsel to ask him how he connected the Livingston-st. widening with the article alleged in the complaint to be libellous "This man has been posing as a person of high moral standing," was Mr. Shearn's reply. District Attorney Jerome broke in and said:

MIS CUNEO ARRIVING FROM NEW-YORK ON THE 1,000-MILE RUN AT MOUNT WASHINGTON HOTEL.

Fourth one in Led fifty machines for 150 miles, but failed to keep the lead only on account of the lack

103-5 seconds, which, in a light powered run-about, was creditable. In the $650 to $1,000 class, J. E. Stanley's 10horsepower steam runabout had a walkover. Driven by Bert Holland, the little vehicle shot up the mountainside, in one of the cloudiest periods of the day, in 31 minutes and 64-5 seconds. This record beat the one made by the same machine a year ago by about 35 seconds.

The other two contestants in this class had hard luck. F. H. Peabody, in a 10-horsepower Marion, broke an oil pump and did not finish. The 10-horsepower Crawford, driven by R. S. Crawford, broke its commutator wires, and prolonged repairs prevented its finishing. Event No. 3, for cars from $1,000 to $2,000, went to R. M. Owen, who drove a Reo the required distance in 52 minutes 35 2-5 seconds This win was protested by C. W. Kelsey, who drove a 16-horsepower Maxwell and finished second in 1 hour 27 seconds. The protest against the Reo was made on the basis that the tonneau was off during the run.

H. P. Maxim, in an 18-horsepower Columbia made fast time for the first six miles, but suffered misfortune not far from the finish, and landed in third place. Time, 1 hour 7 minutes

Event No. 5 went to Charles Soules in the record run for the day. Percy R. Pierce, who made the ascent in the forencon, long before the other cars in this class, was content to take second place in 38 minutes 45 seconds, although he will be allowed another attempt to-merrow.

Webb Jay, who was expected to do great things in this event, took 41 minutes 35 4-5 seconds in his 10-horsepower White. Harry Wollaver came to grief in a 40-horsepower Columbia with a broken crank shaft and failed to

With eleven events more to be run off, and the outlook for fair weather a lottery, chances to-night are against finishing to-morrow. How-ever, officials are prepared, in case of good ever, officials are prepared, in case or good weather, to begin the running early in the morn-ing. In this case they hope to conclude the sports before dark.

AMERICAN AUTOMOBILE WINS.

Charles G. Roebling and Ferdinand W. Roebling established a new automobile record between Newark and Spring Lake yesterday, and at the same time settled a friendly controversy between as to the relative merits of American and foreign

Charles G. Roebling has always been an adherent of the American car, claiming that this country can produce an article equal to any foreign prodpet. To componentate this he has had a 60-horse-T. W. Roebling, who is an advocate of foreign machines, has a new Clement Bayard by which he swears. The two brothers decided to try out new cars yesterday in a trial spin to Spring

Lake.

C. G. Boebling, in his Locomobile, covered the distance in one hour and eighteen minutes, and F. W. Roebling, in his Chement Bayard, came in two minutes later. The previous record for the run was one nour and thirty-two minutes. Of course, the new automobile law-of New-Jersey-was shattered by the performance, but this was looked upon as of little importance.

AUTOMOBILE DEALERS ORGANIZE.

ffalo, July 17.-The National Association of officers were elected: President, W. C. Jaynes, of Buffalo; vice-president, Harry Unwin, York; secretary treasurer, H. C. Wilcox, of Nearly all large automobile dealers in United States are represented.

"We want to give these people the widest possible latitude. They have made statements in this article wilfully, deliberately and maliciously false in every particular. They have uttered a malicious and wilful ile, and when the time comes to ask for punishment, if it shall come, as we expect it will, we shall not ask for fines, but for imprisonment. Mr. Grout then denied that he was a stockholder in the Livingston Amusement Company, the Dreamland Company or the Montauk Thestre Company. He said that, so far as he knew. no member of his family held stock in any of the Reynolds enterprises. After he had detailed the proceedings for the extension of Fistbush-ave, the campaign of 1903 and his action on the gas contracts, Mr. Jerome examined him.

"I see a suggestion in this article that in some way the Brooklyn improvements would be of benefit to you. Were they in any possible way, direct a leafdirect or indirect, of any benefit to you, your relatives or political associates?" Mr. Jerome

"It was not."
"Do you think the price was fair?" "I believe $500,000 was fair; it would have cost more by condemnation proceedings." "Have you ever owned any gas stock?"

"Did you or your relatives receive any benefit from your action in the gas matter?"
"No, sir."
Mr. Grout also denied that Mr. Belmont or

TO EXTRADITE HIGGINSON TUTOR.

Detective to Sail After Man Accused of Complicity in Jewel Robbery.

As soon as the papers in the case are ready, Detective Sergeant McCafferty will start for Christiansand, Norway, to bring Edward Park back to this city to stand trial for grand larceny in con-nection with the Higginson jewel robbery of July Park was arrested as he alighted from the Scan dinavian-American line steamship United States yesterday, at the instance of the local authorities. It is alleged that he is the person who stole jewels valued at between $10,000 and $15,000 from the home of James Jackson Higginson, at No. 16 East 4ist-St., and for whom the local police and the Pinkerton men have been looking. At the time and for hearly four years previously Park had been employed as a tutor in the Higginson household, and as such had the confidence of the entire family in addition to that of many of the family's friends. yesterday, at the instance of the local authorities

According to Acting Captain McCauley of the Detective Bureau, Park is about twenty-five years old and very tall. He comes from a good family, it is said. So far as is known by the local police, this is the first time he has ever been in any trouble.

this is the first time he has ever been in any trouble.

The Pinkerton men found in a Bowery pawnshop a necklace which was part of the stolen jewelry. From a description of the man who had pawned it they decided that Park was the man. At about the same time the police found two silver cigarette cases and a diamond brooch in another pawnshop on the Bowery and obtained a similar description of the man who pawned them, as had the Pinkertons. Then a group picture, among which was that of Park, was obtained and it was shown to both pawnbrokers, on separate occasions, and, according to the police, both men picked out Park as the man who had pawned the jewelry with them.

Park, it was learned, sailed on the United States. Governor Higgins communicated with the State Department, with the result that the Norway authorities were requested to arrest Park.

SENATOR CLARK STEADILY IMPROVES.

Dr. James F. McKernon, of No. 62 West 52d-st., who performed an operation on Senator William A. WANTS JAIL SENTENCE. ARMY AND NAVY NEWS. CALL ON COL. WILLARD.

[FROM THE TRIBUNE BUREAU.]

SCHUYLKILL ARSENAL SCANDAL.-The Wat Department has received the special reports of the inspector general, including that of General Burton, of the conditions prevailing at the quartermaster's depot at Philadelphia, with some remarks on the state of affairs at the storehouses and factory at the Schuylkill Arsenal. There has been much trouble of one kind or another at that place, largely due, according to the reports submitted by the inspecting officers, to the pulling and hauling of local politicians who have some sort of influence with the authorities on duty there. The will be looked into thoroughly unless the conditions improve, as it is hoped will be the case after the thorough airing given to the place in the Philadelphia papers. No contracts have been revoked, except that for shoes, in which case it was held by the quartermaster general of the army that the contractor was not supplying the kind called for in the specifications. He was promptly placed on the black list and will not be permitted to bid again. The inspecting officers found that much of the clothing reported as obsolete could still be used; that its condition was good, and that where it did not conform strictly to the regulations, it could be converted into other things suitable for issue. Cloth could be dyed in some instances and so made serviceable. A large quantity of buttons is reported as of no value and most of them, the inspectors held, should be retained for issue. Incidentally the inspectors remarked on the lack of prudence in throwing away something like $3,000,000 worth of blue uniforms to make it possible to issue the olive drab. It is held that it would have been wiser not to have permitted the new type of uniform to be worn until all the blue clothing was exhausted. It is found that about one-eighth of the material classed as unserviceable will be retained in stock and issued. The War Department has intimated to the authorities at Philadelphia that it would be just as well for all concerned if there were no disturbances. kind called for in the specifications. He was

His Report on Point Judith Harbor of Refuge Wanted.

Washington, July 17.—Lieutenant Coionel Joseph H. Willard, of the corps of exgineers of the army, has been called upon by the chart of engineers to furnish to the War Department without more delay than is absolutely necessary the report of his survey of the improvements essary in the extension of the breakwater in the construction of the Point Judith harbor of refuge. No one in the department is able to account for the delay in Lieutenant Colonel Willard's office, but, as one official said to-day, it is felt that he must have good reasons for his failure to give the department the benefit of his observations and inquiries in regard to that imporant project.

Most of the reports of similar work contemplated in the latest River and Harbor Appropriation act have been submitted, and Lieutenant Colonel Willard has had since March 3 in which to make his estimate of the improvements authorized at the last session of Congress. In the mean time the people of the neighborhood are sending complaints to the War Department, and especial attention is now being called to the fact that a few weeks ago the barge Moonbean foundered, and five lives were lost. It is urged that the work should be undertaken without delay, since this is the season when it may be done to the best advantage. It will be necessary for the army engineer at Newport to submit the report of his survey, which will have to be approved by the chief of engineers. Then Lieutenant Colonel Willard will have to prepare the specifications which are to form a part of the contract. The next step will be an application from him for authority to ask for bids, and then the public call for proposals will have to be published for a month or more. Bids will then be opened by Lieutenant Colonel Willard, submitted to Washington with his recommendation of award or rejection. It will be at least two months before the contract can be made, and it is then feared by local critics that there will be insufficient time to carry work on the project very far before cold weather will stop it.

Congress appropriated $100,000 for this work in March, and authorized a contract for $100,000 additional work at Point Judith, the contract to provide for completing the breakwater to the easterly or shore end with a view of fur-nishing shelter for passengers, cargoes and crews of vessels in distress, and for the lifeboats of the Point Judith service. It is expected that there will be little further delay on the part of Lieutenant Colonel Williard in making the re-port on his survey.

DOG EXCITES SHOPPERS.

Dashes Up Escalator and Causes People to Tumble Down.

A little black and tan dog, driven half mad by the heat, caused a great deal of excitement among the shoppers around 33d-st. and Broadway yesterday. The dog appeared outside one of the drygoods stores snarling and snapping until many persons thought that he was rabid. They fled in every direction, all but a bootblack, who tried to corner the dog. In his efforts he drove the dog on the escalator that goes up to the 33d-st. elevated station. The dog ran up past the passengers and stood at the top, growling and menacing all who appeared Women and children turned, and in the effort to go down they pushed and scrambled and screamed, and several fell bruised on the side-

The dog then turned and went down the stairs, where by this time a crowd had gathered, not knowing what was taking place on the stairs. When the dog came down a newsboy and a porter ran after him, and finally cornered him under a standpipe. The newsboy conceived the idea of turning the water on him. This was done, and after he had received a thorough drenching the dog ran away, wagging his tail,

With this money he intended to start a store in Boston with his brother Charles. Bishop Raphael admitted the contention that the archdeacon had given the money to his mother, but the Church contends that the archdeacon had no right to do so, the ecclesiastical law holding that all his money should revert to the Church. His brother has made an appeal to the Secretary of the Department of Commerce and Labor, and every effort will be made to reverse the finding of the local board of inquiry.

LAWYER EJECTED FROM POLICE COURT

He Undertook to Rebuke Magistrate Cornell for Fining Prisoner.

A young Hebrew lawyer, who refused to give his name, was forcibly ejected from Morrisania Police Court yesterday morning by the police of the court insolence had become insufferable to the court. He appeared in behalf of Robert Levitch, of No. 116 West 90th-st., who was accused of disorderly conduct in a 3d-ave. elevated train yesterday after-

When Magistrate Cornell heard the prisoner's name he asked:

"Is this the young rowdy who, I see by this more tag's papers, assaulted a guard on an elevated train yesterday afternoon? If he is, according to the story, the charge against him should be assault, not merely disorderly conduct. Levitch's counsel said: "That's not right. You can't depend on what the papers say. You ought not to form your opinions on what the papers say about a case." Magistrate Cornell, rebuked hlm mildly, declaring that he did not form his opinion on the case by the newspaper story, but that he was commenting on that story as he had read it. He then heard the testimony, and fined Levitch the limit, $16. lawyer broke in again: "That isn't fair," he said, "You have formed your opinion on this case from the newspapers be fore you heard it in court, and my client suffers an outrage thereby." Pounding the desk with his gavel, in front of the lawyer's nose, Magistrate Cornell shouted:

"If you don't keep quiet and stop your insolence,

I'll fine you, too," "I'll stand for any fine you can impose!" retorted the lawyer, and he went on with more talk about miscarriage of justice and outrage to his client, etc. The magistrate turned to Roundsman Maas, in harge of the court squad, and told him to eject the lawyer. Mans and a patrolman grabbed the lawyer and rushed him to the door in double quick time, finally shoving him out into the street.

"I should have fined that lawyer," said the magistrate, "only it's so near my vacation, he might delay and bother me if I did by other proceedings."
